Learning Outcomes

Course Learning Outcomes

This course is concerned with one of the core aspects of our lives and of our development: human sexuality. This course provides an interdisciplinary introduction to the study of human sexuality. You will examine human sexuality from historical, cultural, developmental, behavioural, physiological, psychological, sociological, and relational perspectives. Perhaps most importantly, this course will allow you to reflect upon your own experiences, development, background, and value stances with regard to sexuality.

By the end of this course, you should be able to:

- Examine the field of human sexuality, specifically the following topics: sexual science research methods, sexuality across the lifespan; relationships and communication, gender identity and sexual orientation, sexual attraction and love, sexual behaviours, anatomy and physiology, sexual pleasure and sexual problems, sexual coercion, harassment, aggression and abuse, contraception, STI's, HIV and AIDS, sexual variations, sex therapy, and the commercialization of sex; recognizing the implications of course content and putting it into a broader context;
- 2. Analyze issues related to human sexuality, comprehending the variety of political, religious, cultural, biological, social, and historical forces that shape sexuality;
- 3. Describe the historical development of the field of human sexuality, including the changes in research, perspective and knowledge that have occurred over time;
- 4. Critically evaluate methodologies used in sexuality research;
- Establish independence of thought, and the ability to challenge accepted truths about human sexuality and think critically about sexuality as it appears in research and the media;
- 6. Review the personal and practical implications of course content; becoming informed about issues related to sexuality that will aid in the development of an intelligent, responsible, and fulfilling sexual life;
- 7. Engage in more critical self-reflection related to aspects of sexuality;

- 8. Organize your thoughts and ideas about sexuality topics and practice communicating about these with others (i.e., online in discussion); and
- Describe language used in the media, common public discourse, and research related to sexuality, gender, and sexual orientation and use language that is inclusive and respectful.

Teaching and Learning Activities

Method of Learning

This course is taught from a learner-centered perspective which emphasizes the exploration of meaning and knowledge through personal and interpersonal discovery. This means the course experience will be different for every one of you, as you bring to the content your own beliefs, values, and experiences. We hope as you learn the content, you will explore what each topic means to you, and the assignments and online discussions will bring you to a deeper level of understanding about course content and your personal attitudes.

The course material will address a variety of topics in sexuality, therefore, be prepared some topics may challenge your beliefs systems and may create discomfort, whereas other topics may resonate and give voice to your experiences and worldview. You are highly encouraged to engage with the course material using critical self-reflection.

Note: If for whatever reason the course material creates emotional distress, you are highly encouraged to seek support from appropriate services, including the University of Guelph Counselling Services or a 24 hour confidential hotline such as Good2Talk [1-866-925-5454]

This course will use a modular approach, where you will be exposed to, and learn, health and wellness content on a weekly basis by progressing through the course units. The units include activities, videos, and thought-provoking questions to stimulate your learning related to the unit content. Go through each unit, stay on schedule, and engage with the material to maximize your learning and your success in the course.

Course Structure

This course is divided into 12 distinct units covering a range of different topics pertaining to the development of human sexuality. They include:

- Unit 01: Introduction to human sexuality
- Unit 02: Theory and sexual science research methods
- Unit 03: Sexuality across the lifespan and sexual health education
- Unit 04: Sexual identities
- Unit 05: Gender
- Unit 06: Attraction, love, and relationships
- Unit 07: Sexual fantasies, behaviours, and variations
- Unit 08: Anatomy
- Unit 09: Sexual arousal and response and sexual problems
- Unit 10: Contraception and STIs
- Unit 11: Sexual coercion
- Unit 12: Commercialization of sex

What to Expect for Each Unit

The online material for each unit has been designed to guide you through the textbook reading as well as to enrich your learning with current knowledge from research and media. Be aware, however, that not all of the assigned chapter readings will reappear in the online material. Likewise, there will be some vital information in the unit online material that will not be covered in the textbook. To get the most out of the course, read the online unit content first, and then do the readings for the assigned chapters. The unit content provides additional guidance and focal points for your reading of the textbook.

Each unit is made up of two to three major topic sections. The typical structure of each unit will be comprised of several sections, including Unit Introduction and Learning Outcomes & Unit Topics.

Unit Introduction and Learning Outcomes

You should begin every unit by reading this section. The introduction sets the stage for the unit and the outcomes will help guide your efforts as you work your way through the unit. In addition, this section contains an interactive activity, Did You Know?, that aims to get you thinking about some of the interesting facts about sexuality concepts you will learn through the unit. These questions are not graded, but are to get you primed to learn the unit content. Extra sources are included, you are encouraged to visit these and learn more about the concepts. The references are located just below the activity. Click the "Check Out Primary Sources" interactive "collapsible" button below to access the specific resources cited in the activity.

Unit Topics

Review the commentary and activities on the key issues in each topic of the unit to guide you through the reading of the assigned chapters in the textbook. Each topic is broken down into six (6) activities:

- 1. Sexuality in Media provides links to podcasts, articles, or videos on topics related to the unit content. These elements bring the course content to life and solidify your learning. They are also used as discussion topics for the weeks we have graded discussions.
- 2. Topic Commentary that sets the parameters for you to examine the topic at hand. In this activity, your instructor provides a helpful annotation to your reading of the assigned chapters. Think of this section as your study guide, helping you discover concepts, learn the latest research, and learn Canadian specific context that can provide a framework for the readings. This material is testable, along with the textbook content. Add the content from these commentaries to your study notes.
- 3. Things to Know lists key terms and concepts critical to your understanding of the topic and related sexuality research. Some of these key concepts are discussed in the textbook and can be used as useful guideposts in your reading. Add these concepts to your study notes.
- 4. Focus Questions aim to help you check your understanding of the textbook chapters and deepen your knowledge of issues and concepts discussed in the textbook. If you can answer these questions, it is good preparation for the midterm and final.
- 5. Research Spotlight presents you with current sexuality research or theoretical perspective pertaining to the topic at hand. These spotlights give you the opportunity to learn a little more about how sexuality research is conducted, and to critically analyze sex research methods and results. Most of the research highlights Canadian faculty and students! Note, these activities are not graded but we encourage you to engage in them in any case. They will bring the textbook content to life!

6. Main Takeaways: This section reviews the main ideas and key takeaway points of the topic.

Assessment Descriptions

Online Discussions

A key component of this course is the online discussions. These enable you to stay connected to course material and to create a supportive learning community with your classmates. The collaborative nature of online discussions enables you to learn from each other and to consolidate your own course-specific knowledge.

There will be FIVE (5) online discussions on sexuality-related topics. The Week 1 Discussion is an ungraded discussion for group introductions and setting ground rules for online discussions. Your contributions and participation will be graded in the other FOUR (4) discussions. You will be assessed on the timeliness of your responses, as well as the depth and breadth of answer(s) and how well you incorporate the course material and other strong resources (peer-reviewed journal articles in particular) with the discussion topics.

The questions for each discussion are posted to respective discussion forums (select Discussions from the Tools dropdown menu in the navbar).

- Week 1 Discussion: Welcome, introduction, goal setting, sharing interests for the course (not graded but mandatory)
- Week 3 Discussion: Sexuality across the lifespan and sexual education
- Week 6 Discussion: Attraction, love, and relationships
- Week 9 Discussion: Sexual arousal and response
- Week 12 Discussion: Reflections on online learning about human sexuality

Written Assignment: Sexuality and Relationships During COVID-19

This assessment aims to give you an opportunity to reflect on the impact of COVID-19 on sexuality and relationships. You must use at least TWO peer reviewed journal article to supplement your ideas. You can read more about this assignment under Assessments on Courselink. Be sure to follow the detailed instructions about content and format so that you can maximize your grade for this component of the course. This paper is due the Friday of Week 9 at 4pm.

Online Midterm Examination

The midterm exam will be delivered online via the Quizzes tool (select Quizzes from the Tools dropdown menu). This exam is open notes/open book but is to be completed independently (no use of group chats, student collaboration etc.). The midterm takes place in Week 7.

It will consist of multiple choice questions that cover Units 01 through 06 (textbook chapters and online content from the Topic Commentaries). The questions themselves will require you to have a firm understanding of the unit concepts and the application of these learned concepts. The exam will consist of 60 multiple-choice questions; each question is worth 1 point.

The midterm is 90 minutes in length. You will only have one attempt for the midterm, and this one attempt will be automatically timed by the CourseLink system. Please refer to the Schedule for the date and window of time the midterm will be available. You can start the midterm at any point during this window of time but will only have 90 minutes to complete it.

Online Final Examination

The final exam will be delivered online via the Quizzes tool (select Quizzes from the Tools dropdown menu). This exam is open notes/open book but is to be completed independently (no use of group chats, student collaboration etc.).

The final exam will consist of multiple-choice questions that cover Unit 07 through Unit 12 (textbook chapters and online content from the Topic Commentaries). The questions themselves will require you to have a firm understanding of the unit concepts and the application of these learned concepts. The exam will consist of 80 multiple-choice questions; each question is worth 1 point.

The final exam will be delivered online via the Quizzes tool. The exam is 2 hours in length and will be held on [enter date].

To accommodate students who may be located in various time zones, the exam will be available beginning at [enter time] until [enter time]. Eastern Time (ET). You can enter the exam at any point during this window of time but will only have 2 hours to complete it from when you start writing. For example, if you start writing the exam by [enter time]., you will have until [enter time] to complete it. After [enter time] ET you will no longer be able to enter the exam environment.

If you encounter any technical issues during the final exam, please contact CourseLink Support at courselink@uoguelph.ca or 519-824-4120 ext. 56939.

University of Guelph degree and associate diploma students must check WebAdvisor for their examination schedule. Open Learning program students must check the Open Learning Program Final Examination Schedule for their examination schedule.

Communicating with Your Instructor

During the course, your instructor will interact with you on various course matters on the course website using the following ways of communication:

- Announcements: The instructor will use Announcements on the Course Home page to provide you with course reminders and updates. Please check this section frequently for course updates from your instructor.
- Ask Your Instructor Discussion: Use this discussion forum to ask questions of your instructor about the content or course-related issues with which you are unfamiliar. If you encounter difficulties, the instructor is here to help you. Please post general course-related questions to the discussion forum so that all students have an opportunity to review the response. To access this discussion forum, select Discussions from the Tools dropdown menu.
- Email: If you have a conflict that prevents you from completing course requirements, or have a question concerning a personal matter, you can send your instructor a private message by email. The instructor will respond to your email within 48 to 72 hours.

Netiquette Expectations

For distance education courses, the course website is considered the classroom and the same protections, expectations, guidelines, and regulations used in face-to-face settings apply, plus other policies and considerations that come into play specifically because these courses are online.

Inappropriate online behaviour will not be tolerated. Examples of inappropriate online behaviour include:

- Posting inflammatory messages about your instructor or fellow students;
- Using obscene or offensive language online;
- Copying or presenting someone else's work as your own;
- Adapting information from the Internet without using proper citations or references;
- Buying or selling term papers or assignments;
- Posting or selling course materials to course notes websites;

- Having someone else complete your quiz or completing a quiz for/with another student;
- Collaborating in a group chat (or by other means) on the midterm or final exam;
- Stating false claims about lost quiz answers or other assignment submissions;
- Threatening or harassing a student or instructor online;
- Discriminating against fellow students, instructors, and/or TAs;
- Using the course website to promote profit-driven products or services;
- Attempting to compromise the security or functionality of the learning management system;
- Sharing your username and password; and
- Recording lectures without the permission of the instructor.

Submission of Assignments to Dropbox

All individual written assignments for this course should be submitted electronically via the online Dropbox tool. When submitting your assignments using the Dropbox tool, do not leave the page until your assignment has successfully uploaded. To verify that your submission was complete, you can view the submission history immediately after the upload to see which files uploaded successfully. The system will also email you a receipt. Save this email receipt as proof of submission.

Be sure to keep a back-up copy of all of your assignments in the event that they are lost in transition. In order to avoid any last-minute computer problems, your instructor strongly recommends you save your assignments to cloud-based file storage (e.g., OneDrive), or send it to your email account, so that should something happen to your computer, the assignment could still be submitted on time or re-submitted.

It is your responsibility to submit your assignments on time as specified on the Schedule. Be sure to check the technical requirements and make sure you have the proper computer, that you have a supported browser, and that you have reliable Internet access. Remember that technical difficulty is not an excuse not to turn in your assignment on time. Don't wait until the last minute as you may get behind in your work.

If, for some reason, you have a technical difficulty when submitting your assignment electronically, please contact your instructor or CourseLink Support.

https://support.opened.uoguelph.ca/contact

Late Policy

Twenty-four (24) hour grace period

There will be a grace period of 24 hours for all written assignments submitted to Dropbox. This means if your assignment is due on a Friday at 4:00 pm, you may submit it up until the Saturday at 4:00 pm without penalty. Please do not email the instructor or Teaching Assistants for this; just submit the assignment to the Dropbox tool within the 24 hours.

After the twenty-four (24) hour grace period up to one (1) week after the due date

Individual written assessments will be accepted up to one week following the due date (not the grace period date) and with a penalty of 10% (e.g., 78%-10% = 68%). So, if you think you can earn a better grade by taking some extra time, do it. Please do not email the instructor or Teaching Assistants for this; just submit the assignment to the Dropbox tool within one week of the assignment due date and the deduction will be taken automatically.

Between one (1) and up to two (2) weeks after the due date

Assignments submitted to the Dropbox tool within one and two weeks after the deadline will have a 25% late penalty.

Important Note:

Assignments submitted to the Dropbox tool more than two weeks after the deadline will not be accepted.

Assignments cannot be accepted after the last day of the semester (in the exam period).

Extensions

Extensions will be considered for medical reasons or other extenuating circumstances. If you require an extension, discuss this with the instructor as soon as possible and well before the due date. Barring exceptional circumstances, extensions will not be granted once the due date has passed. These rules are not designed to be arbitrary, nor are they inflexible. They are designed to keep you organized, to ensure that all students have the same amount of time to work on assignments, and to help to return marked materials to you in the shortest possible time.

Obtaining Grades and Feedback

Unofficial assessment marks will be available in the Grades tool of the course website.

Your instructor will have grades posted online within two weeks of the submission deadline if the assignment was submitted on time. Once your assignments are marked, you can view your grades on the course website by selecting Grades from the Tools dropdown menu on the navbar. Your course will remain open to you for seven days following the last day of the final exam period.

University of Guelph degree students can access their final grade by logging into WebAdvisor (using your U of G central ID). Open Learning program students should log in to the OpenEd Student Portal to view their final grade (using the same username and password you have been using for your courses).

University of Guelph: Undergraduate Policies

As a student of the University of Guelph, it is important for you to understand your rights and responsibilities and the academic rules and regulations that you must abide by.

If you are a registered University of Guelph Degree Student, consult the Undergraduate Calendar for the rules, regulations, curricula, programs and fees for current and previous academic years.

If you are an Open Learning Program Student, consult the Open Learning Program Calendar for information about University of Guelph administrative policies, procedures and services.

Email Communication

As per university regulations, all students are required to check their uoguelph.ca e-mail account regularly: e-mail is the official route of communication between the University and its students.

When You Cannot Meet Course Requirements

When you find yourself unable to meet an in-course requirement due to illness or compassionate reasons, please advise your course instructor in writing, with your name, ID number and email contact.

University of Guelph Degree Students

Consult the Undergraduate Calendar for information on regulations and procedures for Academic Consideration.

Copies of Assignments

Keep paper and/or other reliable back-up copies of all assignments: you may be asked to resubmit work at any time.

Accessibility

University of Guelph Degree Students

The University promotes the full participation of students who experience disabilities in their academic programs. To that end, the provision of academic accommodation is a shared responsibility between the University and the student.

When accommodations are needed, the student is required to first register with Student Accessibility Services (SAS). Documentation to substantiate the existence of a disability is required; however, interim accommodations may be possible while that process is underway.

Accommodations are available for both permanent and temporary disabilities. It should be noted that common illnesses such as a cold or the flu do not constitute a disability.

Use of the SAS Exam Centre requires students to make a booking at least 14 days in advance, and no later than November 1 (fall), March 1 (winter) or July 1 (summer). Similarly, new or changed accommodations for online quizzes, tests and exams must be approved at least a week ahead of time.

For more information, contact Accessibility Services at 519-824-4120 ext. 56208, email Accessibility Services or visit the Accessibility Services website.

Open Learning Program Students

If you are an Open Learning program student who requires academic accommodation, please contact the Academic Assistant to the Executive Director. Please ensure that you contact us before the end of the first week of your course (every semester) in order to avoid any delays in support. Documentation from a health professional is required for all academic accommodations. Please note that all information provided will be held in confidence.

If you require textbooks produced in an alternate format (e.g., DAISY, Braille, large print or eText), please contact the Academic Assistant to the Executive Director at least two months prior to the course start date. If contact is not made within the suggested time frame, support may be delayed. It is recommended that you refer to the course outline before beginning your course in order to determine the required readings.

The provision of academic accommodation is a shared responsibility between OpenEd and the student requesting accommodation. It is recognized that academic accommodations are intended to "level the playing field" for students with disabilities.

Academic Misconduct

The University of Guelph is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity and it is the responsibility of all members of the University community – faculty, staff, and students – to be aware of what constitutes academic misconduct and to do as much as possible to prevent academic offences from occurring. University of Guelph students have the responsibility of abiding by the University's policy on academic misconduct regardless of their location of study; faculty, staff and students have the responsibility of supporting an environment that discourages misconduct. Students need to remain aware that instructors have access to and the right to use electronic and other means of detection.

Please note: Whether or not a student intended to commit academic misconduct is not relevant for a finding of guilt. Hurried or careless submission of assignments does not excuse students from responsibility for verifying the academic integrity of their work before submitting it. Students who are in any doubt as to whether an action on their part could be construed as an academic offence should consult with a faculty member or faculty advisor.

The Academic Misconduct Policy is detailed in the Undergraduate Calendar.

Plagiarism Detection Software

Students should be aware that faculty have the right to use software to aid in the detection of plagiarism or copying and to examine students orally on submitted work. For students found guilty of academic misconduct, serious penalties, up to and including suspension or expulsion from the University can be imposed.

Recording of Materials

Presentations which are made in relation to course work—including lectures—cannot be recorded or copied without the permission of the presenter, whether the instructor, a classmate or guest lecturer. Material recorded with permission is restricted to use for that course unless further permission is granted.

Disclaimer

Please note that the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic may necessitate a revision of the format of course offerings, changes in classroom protocols, and academic schedules. Any such changes will be announced via CourseLink and/or class email.

This includes on-campus scheduling during the semester, mid-terms and final examination schedules. All University-wide decisions will be posted on the COVID-19 website and circulated by email.
